Doutzen's timeless power of seduction inspires her new lingerie collection for Hunkemöller

Following the success of her sportswear and swimwear line, top model Doutzen Kroes has now launched a lingerie collection for Hunkemöller. And what a collection it is. Complete with matching accessories, this stylish lingerie collection is inspired by the sexy world of bondage and seduction.

From underwear to outerwear, lingerie is there to be seen. Looking at the latest fashion trends, we can safely say that your lingerie is just as important as your clothes when it comes to creating a cheeky, daring look. Doutzen's collection incorporates luxurious materials and various types of lace, making it perfect for styling your outfits. Lace is combined with stunning embroidery and a nude colour palette to appeal to the current tattoo-look trend.

The collection's exquisite lingerie is unmistakably feminine with an added touch of grit, blending sexy silhouettes and bondage-inspired details with elegant, delicate materials in pastel colours. The pieces are a mix of extremes: deep, darker colours are combined with pastel tones, and luxuriously soft materials are used alongside tougher fabrics.

All the strapping details on the lingerie are detachable, meaning you can go for a dominant, seductive look or a pure, delicate aura.

This collection is for all those rebellious and fearless women who know what they want.

Doutzen's lingerie collection is available for purchase online from 27 October and in store from 29 October. Prices vary from €9.99 to €49.99. The collection is available in various sizes, from XS to XL, and in cup sizes A to F.
